Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Romans and I and II Corinthians It is a real question as to whether there has ever been a time when so many so-called gospels have been proclaimed as divinely ordained ways of salvation as we find extant at the present time. Cults and isms there are by the scores, each with its pretension to be the infallible voice of God speaking to the crying needs of the human soul. The mere fact of the existence of spurious gospels is not in itself peculiar to this time. Even at the time when Luke wrote his gospel many false gospels, so-called, were extant. In the preface to Luke we read: Forasmuch as many have taken in hand to set forth in order a declaration of those things which are most surely believed among us, even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eyewitnesses, and ministers of the word: it seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the first, to write unto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus. There is, however, a great need to-day that the pure, simple, unalloyed gospel of Jesus Christ be definitely and unmistakably set forth with all the positiveness and high accentuation of apostolic days. The Gospel of Jesus Christ alone is the panacea for the ills of the race - domestic, political, industrial, commercial, social, marital, military. In the Epistle to the Romans, Paul, the writer, claims that the message of the Epistle is the very Gospel of God (cf. i. 1 with ii. 16 and xvi. 25).
