Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Slavery: Inconsistent With Justice and Good Policy; Proved by a Speech Delivered in the Convention, Held at Danville, Kentucky Mr. Chairman, I rise, Sir, in support of the motion now before you. But my reverence for this body, the novelty of my present situation, the great importance and difficulty of the subject, and the thought of being opposed by gentlemen of the greatest abilities, have too sensible an impression on my mind. But, Sir, I know so much of my natural timidity, which increases with my years, that I foresaw this would be the case; I therefore prepared a speech for the occasion. Sir, I have lived free, and in many respect happy for near sixty years: but my happiness has been greatly diminished, for much of the time, by hearing a great part of the human species groaning under the galling yoke of bondage. In this time I lost a venerable father, a tender mother, two affectionate sisters, and a beloved firstborn son; but all these together have not cost me half the anxiety...
