Excerpt: . . . benefits be paid during that time. In the U. S. , the FMLA allows eligible employees approximately 3 months of unpaid leave that may be used for these purposes. (For an overview of the policies in our study countries, see app. III.) Family leave policies in the countries we studied were generally funded through tax revenues and general revenues. Because some of these countries are social welfare states, their tax revenues represent a greater share of their GDP, allowing for the funding of various policies. For example, Canada, the UK, and the Netherlands fund paid leave policies in part through national insurance programs, which use payroll taxes paid by employers and employees. Denmarks paid maternity, paternity, and parental leaves are financed by income tax 17 revenues through an 8 percent tax on all earned income. Eligibility provisions are a part of most leave policies we reviewed, and sometimes the service time with an employer determines the amount of leave a parent can take. Many national leave policies in our study countries...
